Lient. Col. SAMUEL WESTALL renewes his humble Request to all his Fellow-Citizens for their Interſt, Vote and Poll, on Midsummer Day, to be Chambellan of London for the Year ensuing. Who has faithfully ſerved the Citizens of London in several Stations, both Civil and Military, above 30 Years, to his very great Expence; has been a Livery-man about 37 Years, and in one Inſtance got the City upwards of 30000 Pounds.

Sir,
Your Vote, and Interest is humbly desired, on M^odsunmire Day next, for Sir WILLIAM FAZAKERLEY, the present Chamberlain of the City of London, who humbly hopes, That the Infirmities incident to his Age, (since it hath pleased Almighty God to prolong his Life) will not by you be thought a sufficient Reason to remove him from the Office; since Experience hath demonstrated, that he hath Friends both able and willing to supply any Defect in him from that Cause, and who are ready to continue such their Assistance. He therefore humbly hopes, that his Fellow Citizens will consider his past Services, and will not add so insupportable a Weight to his present Afflictions, as the withdrawing their Kindness, at this Juncture, will necessarily lay upon him.

SIR,

Your Vote, Interest, and Poll, (if needful) is desired for Deputy GEORGE LUDLAM, to be Chamberlain of this City, who has upon all Occasions, been industrious to support the Rights and Privileges of his Fellow Citizens, and is well acquainted with the Laws and Customs of this City; and zealously affected to his Majesty King George, and our happy Constitution both in Church and State.

Sir,

Your Interest, Vote, and Poll (if needful) is humbly desired for JEREMIAH MARLOW, Citizen and Goldsmith of London, (your former Petitioner) who has been Forty Years a Shop-keeper in Lombard-street, hath (long since) serv'd all the Offices in his Ward and Parish, and been Thirteen Years of the Common-Council of this City; he has a Wife and several Children unprovided for, therefore humbly prays your Favour for the Office of Bridge-Master, vacant by the Death of Mr. Pitt. N. B. This is the second time of his standing Candidate for Bridge-Master.

Sir,

Your Vote and Interest are humbly desired for Sir ROBERT DUNCKLEY, Merchant, Citizen and Haberdasher of London, (who hath had great Losses in Trade both by Sea and Land, and hath a Wife and several Children unprovided for) to be one of the Bridge-Masters of this City, in the Room of Mr. John Pitt, deceas'd.

Sir,

Your Vote and Interest is humbly desired for HENRY OWEN, Citizen and Groper (late of the Angel and Crown Tavern behind the Royal Exchange) to be one of your Bridge-Masters, in the Room of Mr. Pitt, deceas'd. And as in Duty bound he shall ever pray, &c.

JOHN PRINCE, Citizen and Founder of London, having for a long time solicited and engag'd his Friends, and their Interest, for the electing him into the Office of Bridge-Master, is so well satisfy'd in the Promises and Engagements of his said Friends, that he has great Encouragement to hope for the desired Success, if they will be so mindful of him as not to omit appearing in Person at the Election: And he publishes this Advertisement, humbly and earnestly to entreat them not to fail him on the 24th instant, that, if possible, the Charge and Trouble of a Poll may be prevented; for which he still, as in Duty bound, ever pray.

Sir,

Your Vote and Interest are still humbly desired for THOMAS REYNOLDS, Citizen and Weaver of London, to be one of the Bridge-Masters, in the Room of Mr. John Pitt, lately deceas'd. And your Petitioner shall ever pray.

RICHARD LECHMERE, Citizen and Salter of London, humbly requests your Vote and Interest for one of the Bridge-Masters, in the room of Mr. John Pitt, deceas'd; wherein, if his Fellow-Citizens shall please to favour him, as he shall always thankfully acknowledge it, so the best of his Application shall constantly attend the Interest of the City in the Execution of the said Office.

Sir,

Your Vote and Poll, if needful, is most humbly desired for JAMES WAGSTAFFE, Citizen and Ironmonger of London, to be one of the Bridge Masters, in the Room of Mr. John Pitt, deceas'd, he being in the 68th Year of his Age; has been Master of his Company, and serv'd all the Ward-Officer in Bridge-Ward twice over; and is a Person well-affectioned to the present Government; has been a considerable Trader both by Sea and Land, in which he has sustained great Losses, which has reduced him to a low Condition, and hath a Wife and 5 Children unprovided for.
